

Agenda Item 16 Aug Meeting – Art Weekend

There is a plan to resurrect this popular event in late 2027. Lesley Schillinger is leading the project and has supplied the following information:

“Please find 2 rough budget outlines attached. I have never organised something like this before so I stress that they are rough and I hope that I’ve thought of everything. At the moment the options are to join the Artwave event organised for Lewes or to run our own event – Open Art, as before.”

In the very unlikely event that any profit is made by the organisers, it will be donated to charity.

I have attached the budget outlines. Showing comparative costs. The main stumbling block is still the hire charge from the Village Hall of £1100 for the weekend.

Proposals: To consider liaison with the Village Hall committee to share expenses for the event or reduce the cost to the organisers to allow it to go ahead.
